

2019 SCAN Awards Criteria

Each year SCAN recognizes the outstanding practice and significant contributions its members make toward promotion of SCANS work as an organization and in the practice areas represented by SCAN.

The awards and their nomination and disqualifying criteria are:

1. SCAN Achievement Award: This award recognizes a practitioner who has left a legacy to SCAN and the profession through both a history of leadership within SCAN and through outstanding service to the profession.

Criteria for Nomination and Review

- a. Member of SCAN for 10 or more years
- b. Significant history of outstanding service to SCAN in various leadership roles, such as SCAN's Executive Committee, Symposium Director/Assistant Director, Subunit leadership and involvement, major publications (Pulse, Well/CV newsletter, SCORE, The Beat), etc
- c. Professional accomplishments in the field of sports or cardiovascular nutrition, wellness and/or disordered eating/eating disorders as exemplified through teaching or professional training, clinical experience, public speaking, research, publications, nutrition education for the public, etc

Other forms of service and professional accomplishment that may be considered

- a. Participation in Academy and/or other professional organizations at the national, state, and/or local levels
 - b. Community Service/Volunteerism at the national, state, and local levels
 - c. Formal and/or informal mentoring of peers and young leaders
 - d. Collegiality
2. SCAN Excellence in Practice Award: This award recognizes the outstanding practice of a SCAN member in one of the four dietetic practice areas (cardiovascular, wellness/health promotion, disordered eating, or sports). A member may receive the award for efforts as an individual, part of a group, or part of an organization. Practice may include clinical, public health, consulting/corporate, program development, research, publication, education, or volunteer.

Criteria for Nomination and Review

- a. Member of SCAN for 3 plus years
 - b. Visibility of practice in at least one of SCAN's practice areas
 - c. Professional accomplishments demonstrated to advance and impact the profession
 - d. Outstanding leadership/service to the profession
3. SCAN Student Award: This award recognizes a student member who has unmistakable commitment to at least one of SCAN's practice areas (nutrition for cardiovascular disease, wellness and weight management, disordered eating and eating disorders, or sports and physical performance), as evidenced by outstanding contribution to SCAN, extraordinary community service, and academic excellence. The award will be presented annually at the SCAN Symposium, unless no candidate is nominated or meets the award criteria in a given year.

Criteria for Nomination and Review

- a. A current member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics for at least 1 year
 - b. A student member of SCAN for at least 1 year (must be a current student member of SCAN at the time of nomination)
 - c. A current student (Bachelor, Master, or Doctoral candidate, or Dietetic Intern) at the time of nomination
4. SCAN Distinguished Scholar Award: This award recognizes an individual who has made an outstanding contribution to research or the practice of dietetics as a result of continued commitment to scholarship.

Criteria for Nomination and Review

- a. Holds a leadership position in sports, cardiovascular, wellness or disordered eating in a professional, academic, industry, or government organization
- b. Has authored peer-reviewed publications that advance the body of knowledge in sports, cardiovascular, wellness or disordered eating
- c. Has advanced the field of dietetics practice through or by research publications; development of programs, competencies, or standards of practice; authorship of manuals, texts, or position papers; or other professional accomplishments.
- d. Candidates must be distinguished by leadership and scholarly endeavors. Candidates may be RDs or non-RDs, SCAN members or non-SCAN members.

Disqualifying Criteria for SCAN Awards

- a. Currently serving on the SCAN Executive Committee
- b. Having already received the award
